CRYING FOR HELP.

Lots of It in Barton But Daily Growing Less.

The kidneys often cry for help. Not another organ in whole body more delicately constructed; Not one more important to health. The kidneys are the filters of the blood. When they fail the blood becomes foul and poisonous. There can be no health while the blood is poisoned. Backache is one of the frequent indications of kidney trouble. It is often the kidneys' cry for help. Read what Doan's Kidney Pills have done for overworked kidneys. Read what Doan's have done for Barton people.

H. A. Folsom, proprietor meat market, Barton, says: "I was subject to attacks of backache and lameness through my loins. My kidneys did not do their work as they should. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me relief."

Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Folsom had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

COURT EDICT AS TO RHEUMATISM

Judge Barhorst Testifies Rheuma Has Given Permanent Relief to Many.

No matter how many so called remedies for rheumatism you have tried, do not be skeptical about the wonderful curative power of Rheuma. There is no other preparation like Rheuma. It goes to work so quickly as to leave no doubt in your mind of the ultimate successful and permanent relief. One dose daily acts on the diseased kidneys, blood and joints more readily than any other known remedy. It cleans out the "human sewer" and thus purifies the entire system.

"I, John Barhorst, Justice of the Peace of McLean Township, Ft. Loraine, Ohio, do certify that I was cured of a very bad case of rheumatism by using two bottles of Rheuma. It is now two years since I used the remedy, and I am still as well as ever. Previous to using Rheuma I was a cripple, walking on crutches. I have advised Rheuma to at least a dozen persons and each one speaks as highly of it as I."

You can secure a bottle of Rheuma for only 50 cents of F. D. Pierce or any druggist. Sold and guaranteed in Orleans by F. J. Kinney

LINCOLN

"Now He Belongs To The Ages"

At Lincoln's First Inaugural.

"I remember going to the inaugural ball at Washington on March 4, 1861," said the late Robert C. Ogden. "I had just come from the south, where I had attended the sessions of southern legislatures and heard the excited discussion of secession. That ball on the night after Lincoln took the oath of office was about the dreariest public function I ever saw. There seemed to be an atmosphere of gloom pervading the big room, and there were hardly enough people there to cover the floor. Everybody was melancholy except one. The only bright face in the whole place was that of the newly inaugurated president. He was smiling and apparently happy, and the group around him was the one joyful spot in the general desert of gloom."

LINCOLN

"A True Born King Of Men"

Yes, he had lived to shame me from my sneer,
To lame my pencil and confute my pen,
To make me own this hind of princes peer,
This rail splitter a true born king of men.
—Tom Taylor.

"TIPPED" BY LINCOLN.

He Paid a Railroad Engineer to Moderate Speed of Train.

Edward Markstone, a railroad man of Philadelphia, narrated an instance when President Lincoln paid an engineer to slow up his train. It was on the second trip that the president made from Philadelphia to Washington over the old Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore railroad. George Fenevy of Wilmington, Del., was the engineer of the train, and Markstone was the brakeman. In describing the occurrence Markstone said:

"George ran so fast that when Newark, Del., was reached and the train stopped for water President Lincoln got out of the car and, walking up the platform to where Fenevy was standing, said, 'George, take this and don't run so fast, will you?' The president had actually bribed George to hold his engine in a bit." It is needless to say that the engineer did as directed.

When Lincoln first made his memorable trip from Philadelphia to Washington at the outbreak of the civil war Markstone was one of the armed guards on the president's car. In telling of this historic ride he said:

"The sleeper was attached to the rear of the train and was empty. In order to allay the suspicion of the passengers as to the causes of the delay trucks were wheeled backward and forward bearing trunks and baggage of every description. After a wait of nearly half an hour a cab dashed up to the station, and a man unattended quickly alighted. He wore a long coat, the cape of which was drawn over his head. It was Lincoln. He came toward me and quickly entered the car. I could see but little of his face on account of the cape, but I noticed his searching eyes as he looked at me. The doors on both ends of the sleeper were then locked and guarded. I was one of the three men who rode on that coach, Lincoln on the inside. I was on the outside at one end, and another guard was at the other end. From Philadelphia to Baltimore, where I alighted, I stood with pistol in hand ready to shoot any trespasser."

Where Lincoln and Davis Met.
The Historical Society of Illinois has placed a big bowlder memorial to mark the place where Abraham Lincoln and Jefferson Davis first met. The site is seventy-five miles west of Chicago on Kishwaukee creek, in Dekalb county. In 1832 the future president of the United States and the future president of the Confederate States of America had gone to that point as soldiers to assist in ending the Black Hawk Indian massacres. Lincoln was a youth of twenty-three and was captain of a company of militia. Davis, one year his senior, was a lieutenant just out of West Point. Among those present at the meeting were General Zachary Taylor, later also a president of the United States, and Major Robert Anderson, later general who was commander at Fort Sumter at the beginning of the civil war.

Lincoln's Book.
Lincoln was a man of one book, and that book the Bible. Its cool vigor became his. The compressed energy of its phrases lent strength to his acts and utterances, and they became, in a measure, the salvation of the Union.—Editorial in New York Times.
